THE ACADEMY TRAINING MISSION

The primary mission of basic training is to prepare students mentally, morally, and physically to advance into a field training program, assume the responsibilities, and execute the duties of a peace officer in society.

FOREWORD

The California Commission on Peace Officer Standards and Training sincerely appreciates the efforts of the many curriculum consultants, academy instructors, directors and coordinators who contributed to the development of this workbook. We must also thank the California law enforcement agency executives who allowed their personnel to participate in the development of these training materials.

This student workbook is part of the POST Basic Course Training System. The workbook component of this system provides a self-study document for every learning domain in the Basic Course. Each workbook is intended to be a supplement to, not a substitute for, classroom instruction. The objective of the system is to improve academy student learning and information retention and ultimately contribute to you becoming a peace officer committed to safety, and to the communities you will serve.

The content of each workbook is organized into sequenced learning modules to meet requirements as prescribed both by California law and the POST Training and Testing Specifications for the Basic Course.

It is our hope that the collective wisdom and experience of all who contributed to this workbook will help you, the student, to successfully complete the Basic Course and to enjoy a safe and rewarding career as a peace officer.

Introduction

Student workbooks

The student workbooks are part of the POST Basic Course Instructional System. This system is designed to provide students with a self-study document to be used in preparation for classroom training.

Regular Basic Course training requirement

Completion of the Regular Basic Course is required, prior to exercising peace officer powers, as recognized in the California Penal Code and where the POST-required standard is the POST Regular Basic Course.

Student workbook elements

The following elements are included in each workbook:

- chapter contents, including a synopsis of key points
 - supplementary material
 - a glossary of terms used in this workbook

How to Use the Student Workbook

Introduction

This workbook provides an introduction to the training requirements for this Learning Domain. You may use the workbook in several ways: for initial learning, for test preparation, and for remedial training.

Workbook format

To use the workbook most effectively, follow the steps listed below.

Step	Action
1	Begin by reading the: Preface and How to Use the Workbook, which provide an overview of how the workbook fits into the POST training program and how it should be used.
2	Refer to the Chapter Synopsis section at the end of each chapter to review the key points that support the chapter objectives.
3	Begin reading the text.
4	Complete the Workbook Learning Activities at the end of each chapter. These activities reinforce the material taught in the chapter.
5	Refer to the Glossary section for a definition of important terms. The terms appear throughout the text and are bolded and underlined the first time they appear (e.g. term).

Chapter 1

Prohibited Weapons

Overview

Learning need Arrest and successful prosecution depend on the development of probable cause. Peace officers must know the elements required to arrest for crimes related to the possession of prohibited weapons and to correctly categorize these crimes as misdemeanors or felonies.

Learning objectives The chart below identifies the student learning objectives for this chapter.

After completing study of this chapter, the student will be able to:	Objective ID
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Recognize the crime elements required to arrest a person for:<ul style="list-style-type: none">- Possession of a prohibited weapon- Possession of an illegal knife- Unlawful possession of tear gas weapon or chemical agent	40.01.1 40.01.3 40.01.4

Prohibited Weapons

Introduction Certain weapons have no legitimate purpose other than to cause serious bodily injury or death. The mere possession alone of such weapons, whether in public or private, is sufficient to constitute a crime.

Leadership Firearms are a class of weapons that require special attention. They have the capacity to inflict multiple, severe or fatal wounds from great distances. Laws have been enacted regulating the place and manner in which firearms may be carried and who may carry them. Rules have been set in place regarding firearm registration. By knowing these laws and rules, law enforcement can work to reduce illegal possession of firearms and the devastating effect their use has on the community.

Penal code section The crime of possession of a prohibited weapon is generally covered under Penal Code Section 16590.

Crime elements To arrest a person for the possession of a prohibited weapon, the necessary crime elements are:

- any person who
- manufactures or causes to be manufactured
- imports into the state
- sells, offers for sale, exposes for sale, keeps for sale
- gives, lends, or possesses
- any weapon that has been specified within this penal code section as prohibited

Classification The crime of possession of a prohibited weapon is a felony.

Specified prohibited weapons

Penal Code Section 16590 lists a number of weapons that are specified as prohibited weapons.

Although the following pages do not identify all the weapons specified, they do identify those weapons most commonly encountered by peace officers.

Rifles and shotguns

If a shotgun or rifle does not meet the minimum barrel and overall length requirements, it is considered a prohibited weapon. The following table identifies the requirements for rifles and shotguns based on Penal Code Section 33210.

Weapon	Definition/Description
Short-barreled shotgun	<ul style="list-style-type: none">- A firearm designed or redesigned to fire a fixed shotgun shell and has one of the following characteristics:<ul style="list-style-type: none">- a barrel length of less than 18 inches- an overall length of less than 26 inches- a modified or altered shotgun with one of the above characteristics- any device which can be readily restored to meet one of the above descriptions- any part(s) designed to convert a device into meeting one of the above descriptions- Any firearm that can be assembled to fit this description (Penal Code Section 33215)

Weapon	Definition/Description
Short-barreled rifle	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A firearm designed or redesigned to fire a fixed cartridge and has one of the following characteristics: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - a barrel length of less than 16 inches - an overall length of less than 26 inches - a modified or altered rifle with one of the above characteristics - any device which can be readily restored to fire a fixed cartridge which, when so restored • any part, or any combination of parts, designed and intended to convert a device into a device defined in subdivision (a) to (c) inclusive, or any combination of parts may be readily assembled if those parts are in the possession or under the control of the same person • Any firearm that can be assembled to fit this description (Penal Code Section 33215)

NOTE: When measuring the overall length of a shotgun or rifle, the officer should ignore any removable or folding shoulder-stock or shoulder-rest, as long as the weapon is capable of being fired in the shortened configuration. The barrel length is measured from the closed breach face to the tip of the muzzle excluding any removable flash suppressors.

Undetectable firearms

Prohibited firearms also include undetectable firearms. This means any weapon that meets either of the following requirements:

- after removal of grips, stocks, and magazines, and the weapon is not detectable by the security exemplar by walk through metal detector
 - any major component of the weapon when subjected to the inspection by the type of x-ray machines commonly used at airports, does not generate an image that does not accurately depict the shape of the component (Penal Code Section 24610)

Blade weapons

The following table identifies a number of weapons other than firearms that incorporate blades, sharpened edges or points, and are specified as prohibited weapons under Penal Code Section 16590.

Blade Weapon	Definition/Description
Ballistic knife	A device that propels a knifelike blade as a projectile by means of a coil spring, elastic material, or compressed gas. This does not include any device that propels an arrow or a bolt by means of any common bow, compound bow, crossbow, or underwater spear gun (Penal Code Section 21110)
Shuriken	An instrument, without handles, that is used as a throwing weapon. A shuriken consists of a metal plate having three or more radiating points with one or more sharp edges and designed in the shape of a star, polygon, trefoil, cross, diamond, or other geometric form (Penal Code Section 22410)

Dirks and daggers

A dirk or dagger is:

- a knife or other instrument
- with or without a hand guard
- capable of ready use as a stabbing weapon
- that may inflict great bodily injury or death

Penal Code Section 21310 states that:

- any person who
 - carries concealed upon his or her person
 - any dirk or dagger
 - is guilty of a misdemeanor, or a felony pursuant to subdivision (h) of Penal Code Section 1170

Concealment of a dirk or dagger

The mere possession of a dirk or dagger alone is not a crime. It must also be shown that the weapon was carried concealed on the individual's person.

A dirk or dagger is not considered to be concealed if it:

- is carried in a sheath which is worn openly suspended from the waist of the wearer
 - is folded or closed and is not capable of "ready use"
 - consists of a cylindrical device which would have to be unscrewed, turned around, and then screwed back on before it could be used as a knife

Authorized possession of a striking weapon

Peace officers and other law enforcement officers may lawfully carry wooden clubs, batons, or striking weapons that are authorized for the enforcement of law or ordinance in any city or county. (Penal Code Section 17515)

Private security guards may carry wooden clubs or batons only if they have completed specified training for use of such weapons, are regularly employed and compensated as private security guards, and are actually engaged in protecting property or life within the scope of their employment. (Penal Code Section 22295(b))

Private security officers who are authorized to carry a baton must wear a shoulder patch which identifies them as security officers. (Business and Professions Code Section 7539.3)

Animal control officers, as described in Penal Code Section 830.9, may carry any wooden club or baton after successful completion of a use of baton or club course.

NOTE 2: Any person possesses an assault weapon defined under Penal Code Section 30510 unless:

- Weapon obtained prior to June 1, 1989
 - Lawfully registered
 - 50 cal. rifle of any type that can fire a .50 BMG cartridge (Penal Code Section 30530(a))
 - Exception lawfully possessed before Jan, 1 2005
 - Penal Code Section 30905 mandates registration by April 30, 2006
 - Penal Code Section 30900 defines registration

Specialty ammunition

Certain types of specialty ammunition are also prohibited by law. These include:

- ammunition containing or consisting of a flechette dart (a dart capable of being fired from a firearm) which:
 - measures approximately 1 inch in length
 - with tailfins which take up 5/16 of an inch of the body
 - bullets which contain or carry explosive agents (Penal Code Section 30210).

Concealed explosives

Penal Code Section 19100 provides that:

- any person
- who carries concealed upon his or her person
- any explosive substance (other than fixed ammunition)
- is guilty of a felony

The mere possession of an explosive substance alone is not a crime under Penal Code Section 19100. It must also be shown that the explosive substance was carried concealed on the individual's person.

Examples

- (1) A hunter sawed down the barrel of a hunting rifle to a length of 15 inches. Even though the overall length of the rifle was still over 26 inches, a rifle with a barrel length that is less than 16 inches qualifies as a prohibited weapon. The hunter possesses a prohibited weapon.
 - (2) A jogger fashioned a leather strap with a stone attached to its end that he could carry with him in his pocket. He intended to use it as a weapon against any dog that tried to attack him during his morning run. The device that the man manufactured meets the definition of a slungshot. Although the man intended to use the device in self-defense, he has manufactured and now possesses a prohibited weapon.
 - (3) A woman was concerned for the safety of her college age daughter who rode the subway to and from college classes. The woman gave her daughter a lipstick case that had a knife enclosed in it. By giving a prohibited weapon to another person, the woman committed the crime of possession of a prohibited weapon. If the daughter then carried the lipstick case knife in her backpack as her mother suggested, the daughter would possess a prohibited weapon.

Illegal Knife

Introduction It is a crime to furnish or possess a switchblade knife on one's person or within the passenger compartment of a vehicle.

Penal code section The crime of possession of a switchblade knife is covered under Penal Code Section 21510.

Crime elements To arrest a person for the possession of a switchblade knife, the necessary crime elements are:

- any person who
- possesses
 - on one's person
 - in the passenger's or driver's area of any motor vehicle in any public place or place open to the public
- sells, offers for sale, exposes for sale
- loans, transfers, or gives away
- a switchblade knife
- with a blade two or more inches in length

The passenger's or driver's area of a motor vehicle includes an area designed to carry the driver and passengers and any interior compartment spaces (i.e. glove compartment, door compartments, etc.).

Classification Possession of a switchblade knife is a misdemeanor.

Illegal Knife, Continued

Definition/ description of a switchblade knife

A switchblade knife is a knife:

- having the appearance of a pocketknife, including:
 - spring-blade knives
 - snap-blade knives
 - gravity knives
 - any other similar type knife

- a blade two or more inches long which can be released automatically by:
 - a flick of a button
 - pressure on the handle
 - flip of the wrist (butterfly knives) or other mechanical device
 - the weight of the blade
 - any other mechanism

This definition does not include knives designed to be opened with one hand utilizing thumb pressure applied solely to the blade or a thumb stud attached to the blade.

Private property

The possession of a switchblade knife is not a crime if the knife is located:

- in a private residence (other than carried on a person)
 - in a vehicle that is not in a public place or a place that is open to the public (e.g. parked in a garage that is attached to a private residence)

Examples

- (1) A man kept a switchblade knife locked in the glove compartment of his truck. While working, he drove the truck to numerous construction sites. At night, the truck was parked on the street in front of the house. The man believed since he was not carrying the weapon on his person, it was all right to keep it locked in his truck. Possession of the weapon under such conditions was not legal because when the truck was parked on the street or during the day while at work, the vehicle is still accessible to the general public.

Tear Gas Weapons

Introduction	Only specified individuals can lawfully possess a tear gas weapon.
Penal code section	The crime of possession of tear gas or a tear gas weapon is covered under Penal Code Section 22810 .
Crime elements	To arrest a person for the crime of possession of tear gas or a tear gas weapon, the necessary crime elements are: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• any person, firm, or corporation who knowingly:<ul style="list-style-type: none">- possesses- sells, offers for sale, exposes for sale- transports• any prohibited tear gas or tear gas weapons• except when otherwise permitted
Classification	The crime of possession of tear gas or a tear gas weapon is a misdemeanor.
Related terms	In order to understand the crime of possession of tear gas or a tear gas weapon, peace officers need to become familiar with the following terms. Tear gas means all liquid, gaseous, or solid substances intended to produce temporary physical discomfort or permanent injury by being vaporized or otherwise dispersed in the air. (Penal Code Section 17240) A tear gas weapon is any shell, cartridge, or bomb capable of being discharged or exploded which allows the release of tear gas. It also includes any revolver, pistol, fountain pen gun, or other device intended for the projection or release of tear gas. (Penal Code Section 17250)

Permitted use Penal Code Section 22810 states that it is lawful to purchase, possess, or use tear gas in the form of an aerosol spray with a net weight of 2.5 ounces or less, solely for self-defense.

Exceptions to the lawful possession of a tear gas weapon include any person who:

- has been convicted of a felony, or a crime involving assault
 - is addicted to narcotics
 - is attempting to sell or furnish the tear gas weapon to a minor
 - is under 16 years old
 - is 16 or 17 years old without written parental consent and not accompanied by a parent or guardian (Penal Code Section 22815)

Unlawful use for purposes other than self-defense Any person who uses tear gas for any purpose other than self-defense has committed a felony. (Penal Code Section 22810(g)(1))

Possession by professionals

A number of professions may lawfully possess tear gas or a tear gas weapon. The following table identifies such professions.

Possession of Tear gas by:	is considered lawful when:	Penal Code Section
Peace Officers	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> the weapon is certified as acceptable the officers have satisfactorily completed a course of instruction approved by POST in the use of tear gas 	22820
Military and Naval Personnel	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> purchased, possessed, transported, or used in the discharge of their duties 	22830

Private Patrol Operators

Related crime

The possession of a tear gas weapon with altered or obliterated serial numbers is presumptive evidence that the possessor altered or obliterated those serial numbers. Any person who changes, alters, removes, or obliterates the manufacturer's name, serial number, or any other mark of identification on any tear gas weapon has committed a felony. (Penal Code Section 22910(a))

Examples

- (1) Officers stopped and pat searched a man who was loitering around the entrance of a shopping mall. The lawful search for weapons revealed that the man was carrying a two-ounce aerosol can of tear gas. Although the man claimed that he kept it only for his own self-protection, the man had a prior felony conviction. It is unlawful for a person who has been convicted of a felony to possess tear gas.

 - (2) On a traffic stop, officers saw an eight-ounce canister of tear gas in the cab of a man's pick-up truck. The man told the officers that he was employed by a building cleaning and maintenance business and often worked at night. He intended to keep the can in his toolbox for self-defense and thought it would be safer than a firearm. The man committed the crime of unlawful possession of tear gas because the container was larger than the 2.5-ounce limit.

Learning need Arrest and successful prosecution depend on the development of probable cause. Peace officers must know the elements required to arrest for crimes related to the possession of prohibited weapons and to correctly categorize these crimes as misdemeanors or felonies.

Prohibited weapons
[40.01.1,
40.01.6] Any person who manufactures or causes to be manufactured, imports into the state, sells, offers for sale, exposes for sale, keeps for sale, or gives, lends, or possesses any weapon that has been specified within this Penal Code section as being prohibited is guilty of a felony.

Possession of an illegal knife
[40.01.3,
40.01.6] Any person who possesses, on one's person, or in the passenger's or driver's area of any motor vehicle in any public place or place open to the public, sells, offers for sale, exposes for sale, or loans, transfers, or gives away, a switch blade knife with a blade two or more inches in length is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Unlawful possession of tear gas/tear gas weapon
[40.01.4,
40.01.6] Any person, firm, or corporation who knowingly possesses, or sells, offers for sale, exposes for sale, or transports any prohibited tear gas or tear gas weapons, except when otherwise permitted is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Carrying a Loaded Firearm

Introduction It may be unlawful to carry a loaded firearm on one's person in a public place or in a vehicle.

Ethics Officers have a responsibility to enforce all laws and also to follow laws regarding weapons while off-duty. Officers are not above the law and should not be in possession of illegal weapons. Officers must also comply with agency policy.

Penal code section The crime of carrying a loaded firearm in a public place or in a vehicle is covered under Penal Code Section 25850(a).

Crime elements To arrest a person for carrying a loaded firearm, the necessary crime elements are:

- any person who
 - carries a loaded firearm
 - on one's person or
 - in a vehicle in:
 - a public place
 - on any public street in an incorporated city
 - within a prohibited area of an unincorporated area

Classification The crime of carrying a loaded firearm is a misdemeanor. (Penal Code Section 25850(c)(7))

The crime of carrying a loaded firearm may also be classified as a felony, if the person carrying the firearm:

- has a prior felony conviction Penal Code Section 25850(c)(1), or of any crime made punishable by a provision listed in Penal Code Section 16580
 - knew or reasonably should have known the firearm was stolen Penal Code Section 25850(c)(2)
 - is an active participant in a criminal street gang Penal Code Section 25850(c)(3)
 - is not in lawful possession of the firearm Penal Code Section 25850(c)(4)
 - has been convicted of a crime against a person or property, or of a narcotics violation Penal Code Section 25850(c)(5)
 - is not listed with the Department of Justice as the registered owner of the pistol, revolver, or firearm capable of being concealed upon the person Penal Code Section 25850(c)(6)

Related terms To understand the crime of carrying a loaded firearm, peace officers need to become familiar with the following terms.

Loaded firearm means any firearm that has an unexpended cartridge or shell in or attached in any manner to the firearm. (Penal Code Section 16840(b)(1))

Public place means any property that is open to the general public.

Prohibited area means any area where local authorities have deemed it unlawful to discharge or carry a firearm.

Examining a firearm When an officer encounters a firearm on a person or in a vehicle in a public place, the officer is authorized to examine the weapon to see if it is loaded. (Penal Code Section 25850(b))

Refusal to allow a peace officer to inspect a firearm constitutes probable cause to arrest the person for violation of the crime of carrying a loaded firearm.

Making an arrest

A peace officer may make an arrest without a warrant when the person arrested has violated Penal Code Section 25850(a), even if the crime was not committed in the officer's presence. (Penal Code Section 25850(g)(1))

Whenever the officer has reasonable cause to believe that the person to be arrested has committed the crime of carrying a loaded weapon, an arrest can be made whether or not this section has, in fact, been violated. (Penal Code Section 25850(g)(2))

A peace officer may arrest a person for a violation of Penal Code Section 25850(c)(6) if the peace officer has probable cause to believe that the person carrying a loaded firearm capable of being concealed upon the person is not listed with the Department of Justice as the registered owner. (Penal Code Section 25850(h))

Immediate self defense

Penal Code Section 26045(a) allows that individuals who reasonably believe that the property or person of another or of themselves is in immediate grave danger may be exempt from the crime of carrying a loaded firearm, and the carrying of the weapon is necessary for the preservation of that person or property. The perceived danger must be immediate. "Immediate" means a brief interval before and after the local law enforcement agency has been notified of the danger and before the arrival of its assistance.

Hunting

Hunters may possess and carry a loaded firearm while engaged in legal hunting as long as the hunting is in a lawful area. Possession of a shotgun or rifle with an unexpended cartridge or shell in the chamber, in or around a vehicle on a public highway, is a misdemeanor. (Fish and Game Code Section 2006)

NOTE: The legislative intent of the section is the safety of hunters.

Additional exemptions

The following table identifies a number of additional conditions where the carrying or possession of a loaded firearm may be considered lawful.

It may be lawful to possess or carry a loaded firearm when the person is:	Penal Code Section
a duly authorized peace officer.	25900(b)
making or attempting to make a lawful arrest.	26050
possessing the otherwise lawful firearm at a place of residence, temporary residence, or campsite.	26055
an employee, agent, or employer within the place of a lawful business or any person in lawful possession of private property.	26035
a uniformed security guard with the authority to carry a firearm while actually engaged in protecting and preserving the property of their employers, or on duty or en route to or from their residences or their places of employment.	26030(a)(10)

NOTE: Unless the camp site is in a prohibited area.

Examples

- (1) While making a stop for a traffic violation, an officer saw, in plain view, a handgun on the seat next to the driver. Upon further inspection, the officer discovered that the handgun was loaded. The driver committed the crime of carrying a loaded firearm.
- (2) While on patrol, two officers noticed a man standing on the sidewalk in front of his home and showing a rifle to a group of people. When one of the officers asked to inspect the firearm, the man refused. Though the crime of carrying a loaded firearm may not have been committed, the man was lawfully arrested.

Possession of a Deadly Weapon with Intent

Introduction If a person intends to assault another person, and possesses a deadly weapon, he has committed the crime of possession of a deadly weapon with intent to assault another person.

Penal code section Possession of deadly weapon with intent to commit assault. (Penal Code Section 17500)

Crime elements To arrest a person for possession of a deadly weapon with the intent to assault another person, the necessary crime elements are:

- every person
- having upon him or her person
- any deadly weapon
- with intent to assault another

NOTE: A deadly weapon is any weapon that when used offensively or defensively is capable of producing and is likely to produce, death or great bodily injury.

Classification The crime of possession of a deadly weapon with the intent to assault another person is a misdemeanor.

Possession of loaded firearm with intent to commit a felony

Penal Code Section 25800(a) also makes it a felony to possess a loaded firearm with the intent to commit a felony. The elements for this crime include:

- every person who
- carries a loaded firearm
- with the intent to commit a felony

NOTE: A firearm shall be deemed to be “loaded” (Penal Code Section 25800) whenever both the firearm and the unexpended ammunition capable of being discharged from the firearm are in the immediate possession of the same person PC 16840(a).

Classification

Armed criminal action is punishable in a county jail not exceeding one year or in the state prison.

Examples

- (1) A man reported that his former girlfriend had called and told him she was on her way with a knife and was going to “get even with him for dumping her.” Officers were able to intercept the woman before she reached the man’s apartment and found that the woman possessed a sharp kitchen knife. When questioned, the angry woman admitted that she intended to use the knife on her former boyfriend. She has committed the crime of possession of a deadly weapon with intent to assault another person.
 - (2) Officers stopped a speeding vehicle and found the driver agitated, not just from being stopped, but also because he had just found out that his ex-wife was suing him for additional spousal support. When questioned about the ax in the vehicle’s rear seat, the man said he was going to use it to “whack her a good one so she would listen up and drop the suit.” The man was guilty of possessing a deadly weapon with the intent to assault another person.

Altering Identification Marks on a Firearm

Introduction The firearm identifying mark includes any manufacturer mark or number assigned by the Department of Justice which has been engraved or affixed to the firearm. In order to lawfully alter the identifying mark on a firearm, a person must first obtain written permission from the Department of Justice.

Penal code section The crime of the alteration or removal of identifying marks from a firearm is covered under Penal Code Section 23900.

Crime elements To arrest a person for the alteration or removal of identifying marks from a firearm, the necessary crime elements are:

- any person who
- changes, alters, removes or obliterates the
 - name of the maker
 - model
 - manufacturer's number
 - other mark of identification including any distinguishing number or mark assigned by the Department of Justice
- on any firearm
- without having secured written permission from the Department of Justice to make such a change, alteration, or removal

Classification The crime of the alteration or removal of identifying marks from a firearm is a felony.

Knowledge of the alteration

Penal Code Section 23920 states that it is a misdemeanor for any person with knowledge of the alteration to the identification marks of a firearm to:

- buy
 - receive
 - dispose of
 - sell or offer for sale
 - possess that weapon

Exemptions

Exceptions to this law include individuals while on duty and acting within the scope and course of their employment, such as:

- members of the military Penal Code Section 23925(a)
- peace officers Penal Code Section 23925(b)
- employees of a forensic laboratory Penal Code Section 23925(c)

Any person who is lawfully transporting the firearm to deliver it to a law enforcement agency for that agency's disposition of the weapon is also exempt.

Examples

- (1) During a traffic stop, an officer noticed a pistol on the passenger seat of the car. While inspecting the weapon to see if it was loaded, the officer saw that the identification numbers had been removed and a name had been stamped in that location on the firearm. The man explained that the handgun had belonged to his grandfather who had given it to him as a special keepsake. The man went on to explain that he had removed the numbers and replaced them with his grandfather's name as a tribute. The man committed the crime of altering identification marks on a firearm.

 - (2) While conducting a lawful pat search, an officer found a handgun in the person's coat pocket. On inspection, the officer noticed that the handgun was unloaded and that the suspect had a license to carry the weapon. The officer also noticed that all identification marks had been obliterated by file marks. Suspect stated he purchased the firearm and was unaware of the altered identification marks. The officer could not demonstrate the suspect had knowledge therefore was unable to make an arrest.

Workbook Learning Activities

Introduction

To help you review and apply the material covered in this chapter, a selection of learning activities has been included. No answers are provided. However, by referring to the appropriate text you should be able to prepare a response.

Activity questions

1. A man with a current hunting license, is taking his 10-year-old son on the boy's first hunting trip. The man is carrying two weapons on the back seat of their car. One is a standard rifle, approximately 30 inches in overall length. The other rifle is 24 inches in overall length so it can be fired more easily by a smaller person. On their way, the man is stopped for a traffic violation. The officer notices the guns and when he inspects them, he discovers an unspent round in the larger rifle. What crime(s) have been committed, if any?

Lawful Possession of a Concealable Firearm

Introduction

Concealable firearms may be lawfully possessed under certain specified conditions.

Community policing

Over the years, for the protection and safety of the community, government has enacted laws regulating the manufacture, sale, possession, and use of weapons. Law enforcement, in partnership with other agencies, is required to enforce those laws.

Statutory definition

Penal Code Section 16530(a) defines a pistol, revolver, and firearm capable of being concealed upon the person shall apply to and include:

- any device designed to be used as a weapon
- from which is expelled a projectile by force of an explosion or other form of combustion
- that has a barrel less than 16 inches in length

Whether or not a firearm is actually physically concealed has little to do with whether it meets the statutory definition of a concealable firearm. Based on this definition, handguns are concealable. Shotguns and rifles, with barrel lengths greater than 16 inches, are not concealable.

Any device which has a barrel 16 inches or more in length which is designed to be interchanged with a barrel less than 16 inches in length may also be considered a concealable firearm.

Concealable firearms also include flare guns, rocket launchers, and some tasers for the purpose of this section.

Lawful Possession of a Concealable Firearm, Continued

- Examples
- (1) A revolver lying on a table is considered a concealable firearm even though it is in plain view.
 - (2) An automatic pistol would be a concealable firearm even when it is sitting on the passenger side of the front seat of a vehicle.

CCW license Penal Code Section 26150(a) authorizes the chief law enforcement officer of the local law enforcement agency (i.e. county sheriff, chief of police) to issue a CCW (Carry Concealed Weapon) license.

Individuals applying for the license must show that:

- they are residents of the county or a city within the county
- they are of good moral character
- good cause exists for them to be issued a license
- they have completed a specified training course

NOTE: A CCW license issued in California is valid in all California jurisdictions.

Examples

- (1) While on duty, a uniformed bank guard carried a handgun on his person and kept another one concealed within the driver's area of his armored truck. He lawfully possesses both concealable firearms as a function of his duties.
 - (2) An officer noticed that a man was carrying a handgun in a holster underneath his sports jacket. Upon questioning, the man produced identification showing that he was an honorably retired sheriff's deputy with an endorsement to carry a concealed firearm. The man's possession of the concealed firearm was lawful.
 - (3) A graduate student from another state was staying with her cousin who lived near campus for a semester. She kept a pistol in the apartment in the night stand near her bed. Though she was not from California, she was temporarily residing here. Since the firearm was kept at her residence, no license was required to possess or conceal the handgun.

Unlawful Possession of a Concealable Firearm

Introduction A CCW license is required to carry concealed any concealable firearm under any conditions other than those specified under Penal Code Section 25525.

Penal code section The crime of unlawful possession of a concealable firearm without a license is covered under Penal Code Section 25400.

Crime elements To arrest a person for unlawful possession of a concealable firearm without a license, the necessary crime elements are:

- any person who
- carries concealed
- a firearm that is capable of being concealed (loaded or unloaded)
- upon one's person
- within any vehicle under that person's control or direction
- without a license or permit

A key element of this crime is that the firearm is carried concealed. A firearm in plain view where there is no intent to conceal it would not be in violation of (Penal Code Section 25400).

A firearm carried openly in a belt holster is not considered to be concealed. (Penal Code Section 25400(b))

Classification The crime of unlawful possession of a concealable firearm without a license is a misdemeanor unless certain specified conditions pertain to the person.

The crime is a felony if any of the following is true:

- the person previously has been convicted of any felony or of any crime made punishable by the provisions listed in Penal Code Section 16850 (Penal Code Section 25400(c))
- the firearm is stolen and the person knew or had reasonable cause to believe it was stolen (Penal Code Section 25400(c)(2))
- the person is an active participant in a criminal street gang as defined in (Penal Code Section 25400(c)(3))
- the person is not in lawful possession of the firearm (Penal Code Section 25400(c)(4))
- the person has been convicted of a crime against a person or property or of a narcotic or dangerous drug violation (Penal Code Section 25400(c)(5))
- the concealable firearm and the unexpended ammunition are either in the immediate possession of the person or readily accessible to that person or the firearm is loaded as defined in Penal Code Section 25850 and the person is not listed with the Department of Justice as the registered owner of the firearm. (Penal Code Section (25400(c)(6)(A)(B))

NOTE: A peace officer may arrest a person for a violation of Penal Code Section 25400(c)(6) if the peace officer has probable cause to believe that the person is not listed with the Department of Justice as the registered owner. (Penal Code Section 25400(f))

Concealment in a vehicle

A firearm is considered concealed in a vehicle if it is stored:

- in a glove compartment (locked or unlocked)
- under the seat
- in a door or center console compartment
- under another object (e.g. clothing), etc.

A concealable firearm may be transported within a vehicle as long as it is locked in the vehicle's trunk or in a locked container (other than the glove compartment). (Penal Code Section 25610)

Possession by a minor

Penal Code Section 29610 and 29615 state that minors may not possess a concealable firearm unless they:

- are accompanied by a parent, legal guardian, or responsible adult with written consent from a parent, and are actively engaged in or are in transit to or from a lawful shooting or hunting activity or,
- are at least 16 years of age with prior written consent of a parent or legal guardian and are actively engaged in or are in transit to or from a lawful shooting or hunting activity or,
- have written consent of a parent or legal guardian, and on lands owned or lawfully owned or lawfully possessed by the parent or legal guardian, and are actively engaged in or are in transit to or from a lawful shooting or hunting activity

Penal Code Section 29650 and 29655 state that minors may not possess live ammunition unless they:

- are accompanied by a parent or legal guardian or,
- have written consent of a parent or legal guardian, or
- are actively engaged in or are in transit to or from a lawful shooting or hunting activity

A violation of Penal Code Sections 29610 and 29650 is a felony.

Examples

- (1) While on duty, an officer stopped a woman for drinking alcohol in public. When the woman opened her purse to find her identification, the officer saw a small pistol in her purse. During questioning, the woman told the officer that she kept the firearm for her own protection and since it was so small, she didn't think it was necessary to get a license for it. The woman committed the crime of unlawful possession of a concealable firearm without a license.

 - (2) While writing a traffic violation, an officer noticed the driver reaching into the back seat and moving what appeared to be items of clothing. While verifying the driver's license, the officer determined that the driver had a number of outstanding warrants. The officer asked the driver to step out of the car and placed him under arrest. During the subsequent search of the vehicle, the arresting officer's partner found a semiautomatic pistol under a pile of clothing in the rear seat of the vehicle. The crime of unlawful possession of a concealable firearm has been committed.

Chapter Synopsis

Learning need Arrest and successful prosecution depend on the development of probable cause. Peace officers must know the elements required to arrest for crimes related to unlawful concealment of firearms and to correctly categorize these crimes as misdemeanors or felonies.

Concealable firearm
[40.03.1] Penal Code Section 16530 defines a pistol, revolver and firearm capable of being concealed upon a person as any device designed to be used as a weapon, from which is expelled a projectile by force of an explosion or other form of combustion, and that has a barrel less than 16 inches in length.

Exemptions to CCW license requirement
[40.03.2] Penal Code Section 25525 identifies specific conditions under which a person may be exempt from the license requirement for the possession of a concealable firearm.

Unlawful Possession of Concealable Firearm
[40.03.3, 40.03.4] To arrest a person for carrying a concealed firearm without a license, certain crime elements must be present.

Persons on probation

Probation is a sentencing alternative for a person convicted of a criminal offense and is granted at a judge's discretion. Rather than incarceration in prison, the individual must serve a period of supervised freedom, under the authority of a probation officer.

As an expressed condition of probation, probationers may be prohibited or restricted from:

- owning
- possessing
- having custody or control of any firearm

Individuals who have such restrictions to their probation and are found to own, possess, or have custody or control of any firearm are guilty of a felony. (Penal Code Section 29815(a))

Penal Code Section 26045(a)-(c) may exempt individuals who reasonably believe that the property or person of another or of themselves is in immediate grave danger.

Persons under restraining orders

Individuals who are subject to temporary restraining orders or injunctions issued for a specified circumstance are prohibited from purchasing or receiving a firearm. Specified circumstances include restraining orders:

- to protect a person from harassment (Code of Civil Procedure 527.6)
- involving domestic violence (Family Code Section 6211)
- on behalf of an employee who has received threats or has been a target of violence (Code of Civil Procedure 527.8)

Individuals under such restrictions who are found to have purchased or received, or attempted to purchase or receive, a firearm may be guilty of a felony. (Penal Code Section 29825)

Persons Convicted of Specified Misdemeanors

Introduction Individuals who have committed certain specified misdemeanors are prohibited from possessing a firearm within 10 years of the conviction.

Penal code section The crime of possession of a firearm by a person convicted of a specified misdemeanor is covered under Penal Code Section 29805.

Crime elements To arrest a person for possession of a firearm by a person convicted of a specified misdemeanor, the necessary crime elements are:

- any person who
 - has been convicted of a specified misdemeanor and
 - within ten years of the conviction

Examples

- (1) Officers responded to a call of suspected domestic violence. When they arrived at the home, they disarmed a man of a semiautomatic handgun. Upon questioning, the man told the officers that he had a clean record, except for a conviction for battery seven years ago. After confirming the prior conviction, the officers arrested the man for possession of a firearm by a person convicted of a specified misdemeanor.

- (2) An officer made a traffic stop and contacted the driver. While the driver was reaching to get the vehicle registration, the officer saw what appeared to be a pistol in the glove compartment. After conducting a records check, the officer found out that the driver had been convicted of stalking her ex-husband one year ago. The officer arrested the driver for possession of a firearm by a person convicted of a specified misdemeanor. The driver was also guilty of carrying a firearm concealed within a vehicle.

Peace officers convicted of domestic violence offenses

Penal Code Section 29855(a) specifies that individuals employed as peace officers who have been convicted of specified domestic violence offenses may petition the court only once for relief from this prohibition.

Specified domestic violence offenses are:

- spousal abuse (Penal Code Section 243(e)(1))
 - stalking (Penal Code Section 646.9)
 - violating a protective order (Penal Code Section 273.6)

Examples

The following examples illustrate the crime of possession of a firearm by a convicted felon, narcotic addict, or other restricted persons.

- (1) Officers went to a specified address with a search warrant. While inside the apartment, they found drug paraphernalia. The officers also found in plain view a loaded revolver. Upon questioning, the resident admitted that he was a heroin addict. Because he considers the neighborhood to be rough, he kept the firearm nearby for self-defense. They arrested him for possession of the firearm by a narcotic addict.
 - (2) An officer stopped a vehicle for a broken taillight. While checking the driver's license and registration, the officer noted in plain view a rifle in the back seat of the vehicle. The driver explained that he was on the way to a firing range to participate in an activity sponsored by his shooting club. When the officer ran a check on the driver's license, she learned that the driver had been convicted of a felony 18 years ago in Maryland. The officer arrested the man for possession of a firearm by a convicted felon.

Examples

- (1) Two men were fighting in a public parking lot. One of the men reached into his car, pulled out a firearm, and yelled “Get out of here!” When officers intervened, they found that the firearm was not loaded. Though the weapon was not loaded, the officers arrested the man with the weapon for drawing and exhibiting a firearm in a threatening manner.

 - (2) During heavy traffic, two vehicles collided while both drivers were trying to change into the same lane at the same time. No one was injured, but there was extensive damage to both vehicles. When the drivers began to argue over who was at fault, one of the drivers pulled his jacket back, deliberately showing that he had a handgun in the waistband of his pants. Though he never removed the weapon, the man was exhibiting it in a threatening manner during the argument and, therefore, guilty of the misdemeanor offense.

Examples

- (1) After an athletic victory over a long-time rival, a carload of college students celebrated by driving around an empty shopping mall parking lot late at night, shooting into the sky through the vehicle's open windows. Even though their intent was to make noise and not to cause any harm or damage, the shooters, as well as the driver/owner of the vehicle who was in on the prank, committed the crime of discharging a firearm from a motor vehicle.

 - (2) A vehicle owner let his roommate borrow his car for an evening. During the evening, the roommate parked the car across the street from the home of his ex-girlfriend. When she came home later that evening, the roommate fired two shots from the parked vehicle at the woman's date. The roommate committed the crime of discharging a firearm from a motor vehicle.

Related terms

To understand the crime of discharging a firearm at an inhabited dwelling, vehicle or aircraft, peace officers need to become familiar with the following terms.

Occupied means that there is currently someone in the structure, vehicle, or aircraft.

Inhabited means currently being used for dwelling purposes, whether presently occupied or not.

Aircraft means any mechanical device intended for, and capable of, transporting individuals through airspace.

House car means any motor vehicle originally designed, or permanently altered, and equipped for human habitation to which a camper has been permanently attached (Vehicle Code Section 362).

Camper means a structure designed to be mounted upon a motor vehicle and to provide facilities for human habitation or camping purposes (Vehicle Code Section 243).

Examples

- (1) A man who had recently been fired from a small business went to the store late at night when he knew no one would be there and fired a number of shots at the front of the building. Although the building was not occupied at the time, the man's act constituted the crime of discharging a firearm at an unoccupied building.
 - (2) A man who owned several acres of private, unposted, wooded property became angry at a number of campers parked on the property. The man began firing a shotgun at the campers. Though the man had no intent to cause any type of injury and, in fact, was not even aware if the campers (vehicles) were even inhabited at the time, he committed the crime of discharging a firearm at an inhabited dwelling.
 - (3) An officer observed two men standing in the street in front of the row of houses where they lived, pointing rifles into the sky, and discharging them several times. When questioned, the men told the officer that they weren't shooting at anything; they were just bored and wanted to "liven up the neighborhood." Both men were arrested for discharging a firearm in a grossly negligent manner.
 - (4) After a day of hunting, two men began cleaning their firearms and were consuming a number of beers at the same time. While joking and drinking his beer, one of the men discharged his firearm, seriously wounding his hunting partner. The owner of the handgun was guilty of discharging a firearm in a grossly negligent manner.

Chapter Synopsis

Learning need	Arrest and successful prosecution depend on the development of probable cause. Peace officers must know the elements required to arrest for crimes related to the drawing, exhibiting, and unlawful use of weapons and to correctly categorize these crimes as misdemeanors or felonies.
Deadly weapons (other than firearms) [40.05.1, 40.04.10]	Any person who, except in self-defense, in the presence of any other person, draws or exhibits any deadly weapon in a rude, angry, or threatening manner, or unlawfully uses a deadly weapon in any fight or quarrel is guilty of a misdemeanor.
Firearms [40.04.2, 40.04.10]	Any person who, except in self-defense, in the presence of any other person, draws or exhibits any firearm (loaded or unloaded) in a rude, angry, or threatening manner, or unlawfully uses a firearm in any fight or quarrel is guilty of a misdemeanor.
Loaded firearms on any daycare center grounds [40.04.3, 40.04.10]	Any person who while in the presence of another, except in self-defense, draws or exhibits any loaded firearm in a rude, angry, or threatening manner, or unlawfully uses a loaded firearm in a fight or quarrel on the grounds of a daycare center when that center or facility is open for use is guilty of a felony.
Firearm in presence of a peace officer [40.04.10, 40.04.12]	Any person who, in the immediate presence of a peace officer draws or exhibits any firearm, whether loaded or unloaded, in a rude, angry, or threatening manner, and who knows or reasonably should know, by the officer's appearance, action, or identification, that he or she is a peace officer is guilty of a felony.

Imitation firearm
[40.04.5, 40.04.10]

Any person who, except in self-defense, draws or exhibits an imitation firearm in a threatening manner against another person in such a way as to cause a reasonable person apprehension or fear of bodily harm is guilty of a misdemeanor.

In a grossly negligent manner
[40.04.6, 40.04.10]

Any person who, except as otherwise authorized by law who willfully discharges a firearm in a grossly negligent manner which could result in injury or death to a person is guilty of a felony.

Workbook Learning Activities

Introduction

To help you review and apply the material covered in this chapter, a selection of learning activities has been included. No answers are provided. However, by referring to the appropriate text, you should be able to prepare a response.

Activity questions

1. After having several beers at a barbeque, a homeowner and a friend set up targets in the small suburban backyard where the barbeque is taking place. The two then take turns shooting a BB gun at the targets. BBs that miss the target sail into a neighbor's yard. The next-door neighbor calls law enforcement. What crime or crimes, if any, have taken place?

2. While riding around in a rural area, three 18-year-olds take turns trying to shoot a revolver at mailboxes from the moving car. What crimes or crimes, if any, have taken place?
