This Telecourse is designed to improve law enforcement response to reports of sexual assault and enhance investigation and prosecution of sexual assaults. Subject matter experts provide firsthand insights on how to interact with and assist victims to prevent further trauma and educate them about the process. Also featured are sexual assault survivors who were brave enough to step forward and share their stories.

The program highlights common misconceptions and realities about sexual assault while providing officers with an understanding of the benefits of the sexual assault response team. The video encourages officers to conduct unbiased and effective forensic interviews to determine the facts and protect the rights of all parties.
